

COPENHAGEN SOUNDSCAPES WALKS SERIES

Supporting an initiative to provide people with a vocabulary and tools to shape their sound environment and advance SDG 11.

Positive Impact supports events being used to advance the SDGs (in this case SDG 11 Sustainable cities and communities indicator 3 inclusive and sustainable urbanisation) and in 2023 Positive Impact is looking for innovation partners to explore the future of human engagement with a focus on the role of soundscapes in enabling human connection, participation and inclusion.

How human engagement happens is changing. Climate change, human rights, technology are all shaping new norms for how we connect, collaborate and participate.

To mark Copenhagen's Year of Architecture 2023, Positive Impact is exploring the opportunity to co-create the future of human engagement by increasing the number of people with the capacity to understand and shape the role of the sound environment in their engagement with their cities and communities.

INNOVATION PARTNER

Are you interested in being associated with an innovative initiative which advances SDG 11? Are you able to partner and provide resources to expand the impact of the Soundscapes Walks Series? If so please email Fiona@positive-impact-events.com to request more details

PLEASE VISIT:

<https://www.positiveimpacetevents.com/soundscapes-walks-in-copenhagen>

