

ACTION PLAN TRIALING ISO 20121

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO TRIAL ISO 20121?

In May 2023 the revision of ISO 20121 is at the public enquiry stage. This is the time when people can provide their comments to the revision of ISO 20121.

To be able to provide comments and feedback it makes sense to trial the standard (so you are providing comments from experience, not theoretical comments)

Romain Riboud chair of ISO 20121 working group said:

“trialing the standard is important to continue the collective momentum we have had so far in the revision of the standard”

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS OF TRIALING ISO 20121?

By trialing the standard at the comment stage you will be one of the first to understand what a more ambitious ISO 20121 could mean for your business and your way of working.

The revision of ISO 20121 is only possible with input from experts and if you trial the standard you will be able to create comments based on real life experience.

You do not need any previous expertise to trial ISO 20121.

Romain Riboud chair of the ISO 20121 working group describes the revision of the standard as 'more ambitious'.

HOW TO TRIAL ISO 20121

Any size of company within the event sector supply chain can trial ISO 20121.

Ideally you will trial the entire standard so you can have an understanding of how the different sections of the standard relate to each other.

It is possible to trial ISO 20121 on any size of event.

If you are working on a major event that is taking many years to plan you could trial ISO 20121 on something like a meeting or a small social event.

You will need to contact your National Standards Body or liaison organisation to access the standard <http://committee.iso.org/tc250>

If you would like more resources like this and to use your voice to create a sustainable event industry join the Positive Impact global Ambassador community.

www.positive-impact-events.com/ambassadors

POSITIVE IMPACT

